There are 71,865 hectares of ALR land within the Fraser Valley Regional District of which 27,413 hectares is within Abbotsford. ALR land represents approximately 75% of Abbotsford's overall land base, signaling how important this sector is to our community both now and into the future.

MANUFACTURING

Manufacturing is a vibrant and vital component of the British Columbia economy. Boasting the largest economic footprint, supporting 12,000 companies and 400,000 jobs, 77% of this sector is comprised of small or medium-sized firms. In 2018, manufactured goods accounted for 61% of BC's total goods exported internationally. Every 100 direct jobs in manufacturing supports 80 additional jobs across multiple sectors in the provincial economy.

Abbotsford is home to a diverse mix of manufacturing operations. With ready access to the region's natural resources, agri-food processing offers many strategic opportunities, but we are also home to innovators in clean tech, life sciences and machinery production areas which are not as reliant on proximity to local resource supply.

The Conference Board of Canada reports that Abbotsford-Mission's real GDP growth is expected to improve from 1.9 percent last year to 2.5 percent this year. Our goods-producing sector will lead the way over the next two years, thanks to growing business opportunities, a lower Canadian dollar and a solid United States economy.

Manufacturing is expected to remain healthy, especially in the wood products industry.

Quality of Life.

Abbotsford is a city on the move – a growing, dynamic and diverse community recognized by the Intelligent Communities Forum in 2018 as one of the Top 7 intelligent communities in the world. This designation, based on six indicators – innovation, knowledgeable workforce, sustainability, broadband, digital equality and advocacy – reflects the community-wide collaboration of government, business and the public to embrace change and evolve together.

There are many reasons why Abbotsford strikes a chord with a growing population.

CLIMATE

While Canada is recognized as a northern country, often best known for its winter weather and pastimes, Abbotsford, nestled in the Fraser Valley near the Pacific Coast, offers a moderate climate that defies the national stereotype.

With average highs in the summer of 24 degrees Celsius and average lows in the winter often above the freezing mark, Abbotsford sees an average of twelve snow days per year – much less than many areas of the country.

RECREATION & CULTURE

Abbotsford is home to 192 parks which cover more than 841.5 hectares of parkland and feature 276 kilometres of trails suitable for walking, running or cycling. It is estimated that 84% of residents live within 500 metres of a park.

We are home to a number of signature events each year, including the Abbotsford International Airshow which attracts more than 100,000 spectators for their three-day festival. The event has been recognized by USA Today as one of the ten best airshows around the world. Other events include the long-running Abbotsford Agri-Fair, the Abbotsford Tulip Festival, Berry Festival, and the traditional Canada Day celebrations, which highlight a schedule which sees more than 150 outdoor events hosted each year. These, combined with the sporting events, trade shows and concerts held at the Abbotsford Centre and Tradex respectively, signal an active social calendar which cater to a wide range of interests.

DIVERSITY

Abbotsford is one of the country's most culturally diverse communities with more than 50 languages spoken by our residents. 30% of our population is South Asian, which contributes to a strong Indo-Canadian business community in all sectors. The Abbotsford Indo-Canadian Business Association has been active for more than 30 years, supporting new entrepreneurs as well as existing merchants to nurture and grow their businesses.

One great example is BC's Punjabi Patrika newspaper, established as the first Punjabi-English newspaper in North America, which holds distinction as one of less than 100 truly bilingual newspapers in the world. The publishers have built an award-winning publication with a home base here in Abbotsford.

HEALTHCARE

The Abbotsford Regional Hospital and Cancer Centre is the first new hospital built in the Province of British Columbia in 30 years and is the first facility of its kind in Canada to integrate a cancer care centre as part of its design. Opened in 2008, this 645,000 square foot facility features 300 acute care beds, nine operating rooms, psychiatric care, pediatrics, maternity, inpatient isolation rooms, a radiation cancer treatment centre and more. This facility will be soon expanding its ER facilities to continue to adapt to our growing population.

SCHOOLS

Located in the heart of the Fraser Valley, the Abbotsford School District has 46 schools that are attended by over 19,200 full and part-time students at 30 elementary schools, 8 middle schools, 1 combined middle-secondary school, and 7 secondary schools.

As one of the largest employers in the city, the School District employs more than 2,200 full and part-time teaching and support staff who are committed to student success.

Programming include;
